

ETAP FAQ # 25

PowerPlot v2.5 Tap Addition Must Be A Number

Description: Tap addition must be a number error message.

Version: PowerPlot v2.5

Published: November 17, 2002

Error Message:
Tap addition must be a number.

Condition:
Non-English keyboard is used.

Solution:
An error message occurs when the user enters the settings in the device editor and attempts to display the curve. This error is caused since in non-English languages a comma is used as a decimal point. To correct the problem, follow these instructions:

1. Select My Computer
2. Select Regional Settings or Configurations
3. Select Number
4. In the decimal symbol edit box, replace the comma with a period.
